What is the PG Development Camp?

For the serious Point Guard, Coach Nelson's Basketball Academy offers an intense camp emphasizing all aspects of Point Guard play. Former collegiate Point Guard and camp director Craig Nelson along with highly qualified staff will break down the Point Guard position and help you become the toughest, most skilled, and best leader you can be.

Head clinician Craig Nelson is the Head Boys Basketball Coach at Sioux Falls Washington HS. Prior to coaching, Nelson played Point Guard for Northern State University, where he started in 121 games during his career, learning from legendary coach Don Meyer. In High School, Nelson played for his father where they won back to back state championships, including 50 games in a row. Nelson along with other current and former Northern State Point Guards will show you how to lead a team with your mind and with your basketball skills

“Point Guard Development”

*We will help you develop the special skills and insights that PG's need to run the show. We understand the PG position, and do our best to teach it.

*Mental & physical development, including classroom sessions, breaking down game clips, and evaluating game situations.

At the PGD Camp you will learn to:

- Develop communication and leadership skills → become a “coach on the floor”
- Control game tempo
- Lead the fast break
- Develop a high skill level
- Use angles and momentum to your advantage
- How to workout on your own and push your teammates to work hard with you
- Maximize Strength Training and Conditioning

He is able to demonstrate and help players learn the skills required to play basketball at a high level. I have not seen many players in my time that put more into developing their game and maximizing God-given talents. He is one of the purest shooters I have coached, and that did not happen by accident." - Don Meyer, Northern St. (NCAA career wins leader, 913 victories) "Craig Nelson was one of the most dedicated basketball players that I have seen in over 40 years of coaching. I had the pleasure of watching him through his development as a player. He became a very good player by being an overachiever. He did all of the little things necessary to reach his potential. He played for a great high school coach, Dave Nelson, his father and helped win back to back state Class B Championships in North Dakota. He then had the pleasure of playing his college basketball for Coach Don Meyer, one of the greatest college basketball coaches of all time. Craig has become an outstanding high school basketball coach who does a great job of sharing his knowledge in helping young players reach their potential as players. You will benefit a lot from your experiences at one of his camps." - Ed Beyer, Hillsboro, ND (ND all-time winningest coach) "Craig did an amazing job working with our entire basketball program. He teaches the fundamentals as well as anybody I have observed and presents life skills that the players will use forever. I highly recommend the Nelson Basketball Academy! Craig along with other Northern State players have had a huge impact on the Pelican Rapids Basketball Program." -Brad Strand, Pelican Rapids, MN (now at Fergus Falls, MN)
